

Academic Transplant Nephrologist
Department of Medicine
Cumming School of Medicine
University of Calgary

The Department of Medicine in partnership with the O'Brien Institute for Public Health, Cumming School of Medicine, University of Calgary and Alberta Health Services, Calgary invites applications for a full-time Tenure Track position of a qualified Nephrologist at the Assistant or Associate Professor level with expertise in Kidney Transplantation, Living Kidney Donation and clinical epidemiology research. The successful applicant will have the opportunity to contribute to the academic and clinical mission of the University of Calgary – Alberta Health Services and the Nephrology Program.

Qualifications include an MD, minimum MSc graduate degree and certification by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada in Internal Medicine or equivalent certification from another professional association, the completion of a fellowship in Nephrology and eligibility for licensure in the Province of Alberta. Candidates must have evidence of strong clinical training, publication record and evidence of an emerging or established academic program of research. At the Assistant Professor level this will entail the publication of at least twenty peer reviewed papers with several at 1st or senior author. At the Associate Professor level, this will entail at least 50 peer reviewed papers with several at 1st or senior author. The position provides 65% protected time for research and will also include clinical service and teaching at all levels of medical education. This is an excellent opportunity to develop and expand an independent externally-funded research program within an outstanding collaborative environment.

Members of the Department of Medicine enjoy an attractive remuneration and benefits package through the University of Calgary and Alberta Health Services, Academic Medicine and Health Services Program. Alberta Health Services operates five teaching hospitals in the city of Calgary, including the South Health Campus acute care facility. AHS serves 1.8 million residents of Southern Alberta, Southeastern British Columbia and Southwestern Saskatchewan. The Department provides academic and clinical services in an integrated manner across all of the hospital sites and in several ambulatory care settings.
